Do you love to solve complex design problems? Are you excited about building extraordinary UX? Are you looking for teammates who appreciate open communication and face challenges together?

Dynatrace is a global leader in Software Intelligence because the world needs software to work perfectly. Our innovative SaaS product helps customers to get a self-driving IT. Due to our high quality standards and cutting-edge technologies we are proud to convince customers like H&M, Delta Airlines, SAP, United Health Care, JP Morgan and many others.

Your role

- Own the complete UX lifecycle and collaborate closely with the UX core team

Senior UX Designer (m/f/x)

Dynatrace Austria GmbH Graz Vollzeit Berufserfahrung 22.6.2020

Your profile

- You think in information structures, data hierarchies, user flows and usability principles
- You strive for visual clarity, simplicity, consistency, balance, and beauty
- You already built complex user interfaces
- You know the basics of web frontend development
- You are a team player, problem solver, and proactive doer

You will love this job if

- You like to completely immerse yourself in a single topic and solve it end-2-end
- You care to deliver high quality solutions, instead of half-hearted deliverables
- You want to work in an agile software environment based on a proven UX process
- You want to learn from a large team of experienced designers
- You like to conquer real challenges, instead of drawing generic e-commerce shops
- You want to improve your skills and grow within your craft
